Here And There News Collected At Random

Some folks do not understand why a detail of Secret Service agents accompany the President of the United States wherever he travels. They keep a watchful eye over him every hour of every day.

Time Magazine tells of this unique service in the following article which appeared in one of its recent issues:

"At commencement time last year, a husky Secret Service man wiggled under a stage at an East Coast college, where the President of the United States was to receive an honorary degree. In the shadows he snotted a tin can, lifted it gingerly out and raised the top. Inside was a note: 'This could have been a bomb.' But the Secret Service did not need a college prank to remind them of the danger. "Before the President flew to San Francisco to speak at the U. N. tenth anniversary ceremonies or arrived five days later at Parmachenee Lake in Maine to catch some salmon and trout. teams of Secret Service men from the 35-man White House Detail fanned out to anticipate every danger. Handlon said Ellsworth was free on bond in bank robbery cases at Memphis, Tenn., and Tulsa, Okla., and has a robbery charge against him at Wichita, Kan,

He said Wilson said he had served time in the Oklahoma prison at McAlester.

In Tulsa, police files showed Ellsworth was sentenced there to eight years for his part in a $31,-500 fur burglary and a gun battle with police which followed. He was sentenced to six years on a charge of assault with intent to kill and two years on a second-degree burglary conviction-but was freed under $13,500 appeal bond.

Omaha police said Ellsworth and Kenneth Kitts, now in Alcatraz, charged with a bank robbery in Granville, Iowa, The charges against Ellsworth were dismissed following a mistrial.

Willie Mays' Batting Spree Helps Giants Beat Phillies; Has 10 Homers In Last 10 Tilts

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press Say hey! Willie Mays is thumpin', not slumpin', these days. It was a long spring for the New York Giants' 24-year-old phenon. but now that the weather has turned hot, so has Willie.

With two home runs in the Giants' 8-5 victory over Philadel phia yesterday, Mays has hit 10 in the last 10 games after going without a homer in the preceding 11. The spree leaves him just one shy of the National League leaders, Brooklyn's Duke Snider and Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski, who have 28.

Mays now has hammered two home runs in one game six times this season, potting him within reach of the league record of 10, set by Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh in 1947, and the majr leagde mark of 11 et by Detroit's Hank Greenberg in 1938.

At .390 Clip

Neither Greenberg nor Kiner had as many as six "pairs" at this Cleveland 9, Kansas City 1 stage of the season. Greenberg Chicago 12, Detroit 1 didn't make it for the sixth time Boston 6, Washington 5 dntil July 29. Kiner's sixth two Only games scheduled homer game came on Aug. 15.

Mays hasn't been going exclu- Cleveland at Chicago sively for the homer, however. Kansas City at Detroit Willie, who hit 4, homers and took New York at Washington the batting crown with a .345 mark Baltimore at Boston last season, has been hitting at a .390 clip in the last 10 games. That's upped his average from .283 to .298.

With Mays hitting one of thre Giant homers in a six-run sixth New York overcame a 5-0 defic to beat the Phillies and strengthe its hold on fourth place. Half of the Giants' 10 hits were home runs Windy McCall won in relief afte the rally rhased Murry Diskson innings, Reliefer Jalk Meyer was tagged with the loss.

Pct. four more in the fourth and one .778 in the sixth to easily trim the Yankees 8-1 behind the three-hit .571 pitching of Don Sweeney. Sweeney stuck out nine Yankees to run his season's total to 24 in three games. .000 Catcher Jack White had a perfect day at bat with 4 for 4.

In the second game, called because of darkness at the end of the 4th inning, the Cards held on to first place by walloping the Giants 8-2. Bill Topper won his third league game and chalked up 10 strikeouts to run his total to 37. Topper also blasted a homer over the centerfield fence, his second of the season. Kenny Baker and Pat Zimmerman each har two hits for the victors.

If the way can be cleared to add Reading's 300 students to the present 600 in the North Adams unit, it with a projected enrollment of approximately 1,100 in six years when the present crop of pre-school youngsters reaches the schools. The state has been pressing for jointures with a minimum of 1,600 students but has given its o.k. to districts that are "near" that mark. Financial and housing problems are forcing the realignment of the districts. Present school buildings are inadequate for the number of students and the state has withheld permission to build additional structures. In addition the state has held that it must soon cease to pay "bonuses" for being in jointures to districts in joint districts unapproved by the state.

TOO FAST ON DRAW

ST. LOUIS (P) - Policeman James W. Bradshaw was shot because he was too fast on the draw. Bradshaw was placing an order for a new holster for the .38-caliber revolver he carries. The weapon fired accidentally when Bradshaw demonstrated how it could be rapidly drawn from such a holster. He was treated for a wound of the left index finger.

The cell shakedown produced piles of weapons ranging from clubs to meat cleavers. A personal search of the 1,700-odd prisoners will be made before they are returned to cells.

Officials said original damage estimates were too conservative that the rampages cost may go as high as $150,000. This includes ruined locks, broken windows, damage to cells fixtures and plumbing, loosened bricks and battered doors and machinery.

A Bit In 48 Years

RUSSELL SPRINGS, Ky. (A) -Jeff Baker visited Russell Springs for the first time in 48 years, although he lives only 11 miles away. The last time he saw his county seat was in 1907, when he attended a dance. He got married shortly afterward and really settled down.

Jeff, now in his 70s, hitched a ride to town in the mailman's horseless carriage. He observed the newfangled electric lights, the moving picture houses, paved streets and bustling traffic and remarked:

"This place certainly has changed quite a bit." Then he returned to his country

His "Plan" Failed

His plan: He would be taken from state prison to a small-town jail while being tried for Sanderford's murder. And a small-town jail, he figured, would be much easier to get out of.

It didn't work. When Padgett was brought to Belton for the murder hearing, officers kept him at night at the county jail in Austin. That's a good jail.

Padgett, who had pleaded guilty to murder and waived a jury trial, got a 99-year sentence and was returned to state prison.

He read law books and began writing appeals in longhand to the State Court of Criminal Appeals. He explained he didn't really kill Sanderford.

ous persons are held on vagrancy charges until the President leaves. "The President's regular traveling companion is a burly Irishman from the Bronx. James Rowley, 46, the special agent in charge of the White House Detail. In crowded reception halls, he moves at the President's elbow; when the President makes an address, Rowley is a pace behind him. impassive and alert; when the President rides in a car, Rowley sits in the front seat.

"Rowley went to work as a bank investgator at 18, but continued to go to school nights, nine years later earned his law degree from Brooklyn's St. John's University. In 1938 Rowley joined the Secret Service, went to the White House in a year, and became the agent in 1946. His toughest assignment was Ike's trip to Korea but this month Rowley is thinking ahead to the Big Four conference, Plans already call for an Air Force fighter and air-sea rescue escort for the Columbine, and Rowley will never be far from the President until he returns to U. S. soil.

"Like his predecessors, President Eisenhower has been irritated by the surveillance of the Secret Service, until recently when he read "The Assassins," a chilling account of the seven attempts on the lives of Presidents, by the New York Herald Tribune's White House Reporter Robert J. Donovan. Shocked, Ike made some inquiries of his own, discovered some disturbing statistics.

"From the time he took office until th's April, he learned, the Secret Service has investigated 3,912 threatening letters and other contacts, and the figure is running abnormally high (401 threats in the first four months of 1955-well above the average). Last year 84 persons were arrested as dangerous to the President, 80 were convicted and sent to prisons or insane asylums. In the same period guards picked up 118 mentally disturbed persons at the White House gates (one pleasant-faced young man recently told a guard that he was assuming the presidency and would review the troops on the White House lawn in 15 minutes).

"Impressed by the danger, Ike stopped complaining about the Secret Service. When the service insisted on closing a tourist observation tower atop Cemetery Ridge on the Gettysburg Battlefield whenever he is at the farm, he made no objection. A marksman, standing on the tower with a high-powered rifle, could shoot anyone on the Eisenhower farm."
